Mini-invasive breast augmentation

Dear GCA Academy members,

It is an honor to have with us Dr. Ayestaray, a well known surgeon from France that will show us how to perform a breast augmentation with breast implants with minimum postoperative care and short recovery time for the patients. He will show us the surgical technique and explain the concept of mini-invasive breast augmentation that he has developed and which are the benefits for the patient.

Dr. Benoît Ayestaray

Dr. Benoît Ayestaray is a surgeon specializing in aesthetic surgery, plastic surgery, reconstructive surgery, and aesthetic medicine in Paris.

During his medical studies, his vocation started when he discovered breast reconstruction possibilities. He is mainly interested in reconstructive microsurgery, and made his medical thesis on perforator flaps.

After working in the French hospitals, he improved his skills thanks to world-renowned specialists in Brazil (Sao Paulo) and Japan (Tokyo).

He has several publications in peer-reviewed journals and books on the field.

He uses the newest and less invasive procedures that leads to minimum postoperative care and short recovery.
